After the impact of the first film, “The Poison Is On The Table II” updates and goes deeper on the evil consequences for public health, caused by the use of chemicals in agriculture. This second feature focuses on the possible alternatives, respecting the environment, the country worker, and the consumer. With this documentary, comes a big question on which we must think: In which world do we want to live in? The poisoned world of the ‘aggro-business’ or the world of freedom and agricultural diversity?

The Poison is on the Table II. Director: Sílvio Tandler, Brazil, 2014, 70 min.
